Every story leaves something behind. A palimpsest is a surface whose earlier writing has been erased to make room for something new, with traces of the original still remaining. And that is whate we are doing in these here United States.

Thank you for spending five hours with us through our first scenario and becoming part of The Palimpsest Society. You joined us at Böhme House, followed us into the dark, and stayed for the mysteries, laughter, and moments that left our table quiet. Sharing this story with you makes us even more excited for the ones still waiting to be told. We're so glad you're here. And keep your powder dry.
